For a library or package, you might want to ignore these files since the code is intended to run in multiple environments; otherwise, check them in:

.python-version

pipenv

According to pypa/pipenv#598, it is recommended to include Pipfile.lock in version control.

However, in case of collaboration, if having platform-specific dependencies or dependencies having no cross-platform support, pipenv may install dependencies that don't work, or not install all needed dependencies.

#Pipfile.lock

poetry

Similar to Pipfile.lock, it is generally recommended to include poetry.lock in version control.

This is especially recommended for binary packages to ensure reproducibility, and is more commonly ignored for libraries.

#poetry.lock

pdm

Similar to Pipfile.lock, it is generally recommended to include pdm.lock in version control.

#pdm.lock

pdm stores project-wide configurations in .pdm.toml, but it is recommended to not include it in version control.

This sample hook safeguards topic branches that have been published from being rewound.

The workflow assumed here is:

- * Once a topic branch forks from "master", "master" is never merged into it again (either directly or indirectly).
- * Once a topic branch is fully cooked and merged into "master", it is deleted. If you need to build on top of it to correct earlier mistakes, a new topic branch is created by forking at the tip of the "master". This is not strictly necessary, but it makes it easier to keep your history simple.
- * Whenever you need to test or publish your changes to topic branches, merge them into "next" branch.

The script, being an example, hardcodes the publish branch name to be "next", but it is trivial to make it configurable via $GIT_DIR/config mechanism.

With this workflow, you would want to know:

(1) ... if a topic branch has ever been merged to "next". Young topic branches can have stupid mistakes you would rather clean up before publishing, and things that have not been merged into other branches can be easily rebased without affecting other people. But once it is published, you would not want to rewind it.

(2) ... if a topic branch has been fully merged to "master".

Then you can delete it. More importantly, you should not build on top of it -- other people may already want to change things related to the topic as patches against your "master", so if you need further changes, it is better to fork the topic (perhaps with the same name) afresh from the tip of "master".

Let's look at this example:

o---o---o---o---o---o---o---o---o "next"
/ / / /

```

/ a---a---b A  /      /
/ /           /      /
/ / c---c---c---c B      /
/ / /         \      /
/ / / b---b C   \      /
/ / / /         \      /
---o---o---o---o---o---o---o---o---o---o "master"

```

A, B and C are topic branches.

- * A has one fix since it was merged up to "next".
- * B has finished. It has been fully merged up to "master" and "next", and is ready to be deleted.
- * C has not merged to "next" at all.

We would want to allow C to be rebased, refuse A, and encourage B to be deleted.

To compute (1):

git rev-list ^master ^topic next git rev-list ^master      next if these match, topic has not merged in next at all.

To compute (2):

git rev-list master..topic
```

if this is empty, it is fully merged to "master".

C:\Users\david/src\source-code-to-pdf\.git\hooks\prepare-commit-msg.sample

#!/bin/sh

#

An example hook script to prepare the commit log message.

Called by "git commit" with the name of the file that has the commit message, followed by the description of the commit message's source. The hook's purpose is to edit the commit message file. If the hook fails with a non-zero status, the commit is aborted.

#

To enable this hook, rename this file to "prepare-commit-msg".

This hook includes three examples. The first one removes the

"# Please enter the commit message..." help message.

#

The second includes the output of "git diff --name-status -r" into the message, just before the "git status" output. It is commented because it doesn't cope with --amend or with squashed commits.

#

The third example adds a Signed-off-by line to the message, that can still be edited. This is rarely a good idea.

```
#
```

```
This hook is invoked by git-receive-pack(1) when it reacts to git
```

push and updates reference(s) in its repository, and when the push
```

tries to update the branch that is currently checked out and the
```

receive.denyCurrentBranch configuration variable is set to

updateInstead.
```

```
#
```

```
By default, such a push is refused if the working tree and the index
```

of the remote repository has any difference from the currently
```

checked out commit; when both the working tree and the index match
```

the current commit, they are updated to match the newly pushed tip # of the branch. This hook is to be used to override the default

behaviour; however the code below reimplements the default behaviour

as a starting point for convenient modification.
```

#
```

```
The hook receives the commit with which the tip of the current
```

branch is going to be updated:
```

commit=$1
```

```
It can exit with a non-zero status to refuse the push (when it does
```

so, it must not modify the index or the working tree).

branch is updated to the new commit, and exit with a zero status.

#
```

```
For example, the hook can simply run git read-tree -u -m HEAD "$1"
```

in order to emulate git fetch that is run in the reverse direction
```

with git push, as the two-tree form of git read-tree -u -m is
```

essentially the same as git switch or git checkout that switches
```

branches while keeping the local changes in the working tree that do

not interfere with the difference between the branches.
```

The below is a more-or-less exact translation to shell of the C code
```

for the default behaviour for git's push-to-checkout hook defined in
```

the push_to_deploy() function in builtin/receive-pack.c.
```

#
```

```
Note that the hook will be executed from the repository directory,
```

not from the working tree, so if you want to perform operations on
```

the working tree, you will have to adapt your code accordingly, e.g.
```

by adding "cd .." or using relative paths.

C:\Users\david/src\source-code-to-pdf\.git\hooks\sendemail-validate.sample

#!/bin/sh

An example hook script to validate a patch (and/or patch series) before sending it via email.

#

The hook should exit with non-zero status after issuing an appropriate message if it wants to prevent the email(s) from being sent.

#

To enable this hook, rename this file to "sendemail-validate".

#

By default, it will only check that the patch(es) can be applied on top of the default upstream branch without conflicts in a secondary worktree. After validation (successful or not) of the last patch of a series, the worktree will be deleted.

#

The following config variables can be set to change the default remote and remote ref that are used to apply the patches against:

sendemail.validateRemote (default: origin)

sendemail.validateRemoteRef (default: HEAD)

Replace the TODO placeholders with appropriate checks according to your needs.
